History of Science and Scholarship in the Netherlands

In 2002 the Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences established a series of scholarly publications on the history of science, scholarship and academic institutions in the Netherlands. The series includes studies on the history of different disciplines in the humanities and the sciences, relating to the situation in the Netherlands. This series, the editing of which is delegated to the Huygens Institute in Den Haag, is also accessible online.

Proposals Welcome
The series welcomes scholarly monographs and edited volumes in English by both established and early-career researchers.

Proposals for monographs or edited volumes should kindly follow the standard AUP Proposal format and should also include the envisaged table of contents or overview of the volume and abstracts of the proposed chapters or articles.
